NEWSLETTER - FEBRUARY & MARCH 2020

Dear Parents,

The Power of Two Simple Words to change the world.....

Think about it, how do you feel when someone sincerely takes the time to appreciate you? You feel energized, you feel like your efforts mattered to someone, most importantly, you feel important.

GRATITUDE is one of the most important skills children need for lifelong. It's never too early to teach them about thankfulness. Talk to them about the things in their life for which they are thankful for and how one should always share their gratitude out loud and show appreciation for those around us through actions. Like by giving a hug or smile or by saying "You made my day!", "You're the best.", "My heart is still smiling".

So, keep reinforcing the concepts of generosity and compassion in your child to strengthen their connection with their community and help them to become more sensitive towards the feelings of others.
